Eugene Little, Guest Speaker

Chamber Dinner To Be Held Sept. 22nd

Eugene M. Little

Eugene M. Little, manager, Natural Resources and News and Information Departments of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, will be the main speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Grayling Area Chamber of Commerce which will take place on Thursday evening, September 22nd.

The dinner will be held in the main dining room of the Chief Shoppengans Motor Hotel starting at 7 p. m. Presiding at the program following dinner will be the new president of the area chamber, William Kraus.

For the past four years, Eugene M. Little (Gene) has served as the manager of news and information, and more recently as the manager of the natural resources department of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

In these capacities it has been necessary for him to be completely aware of the programs and policies of the State Chamber, and to promote them through the various news media from time to time.

For three years he supervised the production of a weekly radio program, "This Is Your Business," and also assisted in the production of several special radio and television programs on various stations throughout Michigan.

As the manager of the Natural Resources Department he has worked closely with the Legislature and with the various state and national organizations and agencies in promoting sound natural resource legislation.

Under his guidance the State Chamber has become one of the leading forces in natural resource legislation, particularly in the field of water resource and water pollution activity. Several outstanding bulletins on natural resource problems have been reprinted and copied widely.

For three years he served as the executive secretary of "Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc.," and in this capacity provided much of the publicity material that has helped put Michigan in a position of leadership in litter prevention.

Prior to his employment with the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, he served for seven years as the editor of "Michigan Out-Of-Doors," the official publication of Michigan United Conservation Clubs. While with MUCC he led the fight to preserve the Porcupine Mountains State Park.

He became a motion picture producer of note and has produced several films on hunting, fishing and conservation. He produced the film "Michigan United For Conservation," which has been in use for five years. He still lectures with his films and has helped with the new program on wildlife and conservation, "The Michigan Sportsman."

For eleven years he owned and operated a weekly newspaper in the Thumb area of Michigan, and in this capacity became closely associated with the various news media in Michigan. His editorials received considerable attention, and many were reprinted in state and national publications.

A LITTLE HISTORY

Max Borchardt says friends tell him he is wrong when he insists the lake on which Camp Grayling is situated is Lake Margrethe and not Lake Margaret. Max is right, the lake is named for the late Margrethe Hanson, wife of the late R. Hanson. It was on Friday, September 7, 1917 on the occasion of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Hanson that the pioneer couple was notified by a soldier from Camp Grayling that Portage Lake had been renamed Lake Margrethe in Mrs. Hanson's honor. It was Mr. Hanson who gave the land to the military for use as a training camp.

Mrs. Roy Roper is continuing as corresponding secretary.

Mr. Earl H. Longworth has been retained for the third year as the Executive Manager of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce.

Golf Club Auxiliary

The final week of the program "To Last in the Handicap Tournament" sponsored by the Country Club Auxiliary was to begin Tuesday and end Wednesday morning. The program was to bring together "Whitey" Pettengill and "Red" Longworth.

In case you did not tune in last week the blow-by-blow "Whitey" tripped up Dorie DeClaire one-up and "Red" surprised all by doing so to Gloria Nielson one-up. Both Whitey and Red confided to our Auxiliary reporter some secret plays intended for this week, so tune in for the massacre scene Wednesday in next week's paper.

FINAL PARTY OF THE SEASON HELD AT COUNTRY CLUB

Anyone who wasn't at the Grayling Country Club on Labor Day afternoon for the scrumptious last party of the year sponsored by the Country Club Auxiliary really missed "the party" of the year. Even the environmental mist melted away before the warm and eager eyes of forty-two golfers, who went on to "funny" golf comradeship in the clubhouse.

There was a beautiful and tasty buffet spread for dinner.

Prizes were awarded to the following teams: Bruce Smith and Doris Souders; Bill Sorenson and Doris DeClaire; Corrine Smith and Doris DeClaire; Charles Vajda and Ann DuBois and Hal Walker and Mary Jane Knibbs, also to the following individuals: Mary Pettengill, Dale Pettengill and Eunice Slusser.

The genial hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nielson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henry Nielson.

Adjutant General Announces

27,000 Troops To Train At Camp Grayling Next Summer

Next year's Annual Field Training dates for National Guard units from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana have been released by Major General Clarence C. Schnipke, the Adjutant General of Michigan. The Michigan contingent, comprising the 46th Infantry Division, will report in camp on 15 July and train till 29 July. The summer training will again be held at Camp Grayling located two miles west of Grayling, Michigan, on highway M-72. Michigan Guardsmen have trained at Camp Grayling since 1914.

General Schnipke said that Ohio's 38th Infantry Division will hold its Annual Field Training at Camp Grayling from 24 June to 3 July. The Buckeye State will also be represented by the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment which will train at Camp Grayling from 27 May to 10 June. Rounding out the out-of-state National Guard contingencies will be Indiana's 38th Infantry Division which will begin training at Camp Grayling on 10 June and break camp on 24 June. General Schnipke expects a total of 27,000 troops to train at Camp Grayling from 27 May to 29 July of next year. Some of these men are members of the combat ready Selective Reserve Force which was organized in November 1965 to back up regular Army units that become mobilized.

"The Department of the Army has specified that all Selected Reserve Force units complete their Annual Field Training by 31 July 1967," said General Schnipke. When asked about a possible increase in the number of SRF units due to the Viet Nam situation the Adjutant General remarked, "There has been no indication of an increase however industry has geared up its war equipment and new items received will depend on Viet Nam priorities."

Grace Wedge Attends Ferris Workshop

BIG RAPIDS—Grace Wedge, Grayling, of the Crawford County Library, was among the more than 60 librarians and library assistants in attendance at the August 28-September 2 library technology workshop offered by Ferris State College in cooperation with the Michigan State Library.

The week-long workshop closed the fourth quarter session of self-supporting short courses offered interested groups by Ferris.

The workshop introduced the new library worker to some of the basic techniques used in library work and served to help fulfill certification requirements set up by the State Board of Libraries.

Workshop instruction was in four phases dealing with book selection, organization of library materials, use of materials, and administration of the library.

Instructors for the course included Mrs. Hazel Hayes, Director of the Holland Public Library; Mrs. Janet Jahnke, Assistant Director of the Kent County Library; Mrs. Juanita Ziegler Oas, Director of the Sturgis Public Library; and

Hohman-Lauers Are Winners

Record Time Set In AuSable Canoe Race

The first two canoes, running in the Twentieth Annual AuSable Canoe Marathon last week, came across the finish line in record breaking times. The race was won by the team of Ron Hohman of Oscoda and Jerry Lauers of East Tawas in the new time of 16 hours and 49 seconds.

Finishing second, in 16 hours, 11 minutes and 1 second in the 240 mile non-stop canoe run, was a brother team from Holly, Albert and LeRoy Widing. This also surpassed the old time mark.

The race was run in adverse weather conditions with the teams running into a torrential down-pour on the river during the night.

Ron Frosh, race promoter, remarked that, "The times are all the more remarkable because of the weather conditions the teams encountered. In the past 10 years races that I've seen, this weather was by far the worst."

Cederberg Bill Would Hike Social Security As Living Costs Soar

Congressman Elford A. Cederberg (10th-Mich.) has introduced a bill to provide cost of living increases in social security benefits whenever the consumer price index has risen three per cent or more since the date of the last increase. This proposal is patterned after similar "escalator provisions" contained in many labor contracts, Civil Service Pensions and Military Retirement Laws.

Cederberg said, "This legislation is necessary because the present Administration policies contribute to higher prices which the elderly, most of whom live on fixed incomes, clearly cannot pay."

Pointing out that persons on fixed incomes are actually the "forgotten people" of any inflationary spiral, Cederberg said that inflation has already consumed more than half of the increases provided in the 1965 Social Security amendments.

Actuaries for the Social Security Trust Fund have indicated the plan will not require a boost in social security taxes, Congressman Cederberg said.

GAZAN NAMED CHIEF OF CAMP PROGRAM

Mr. J. Richard Clausen, Director of the Youth Rehabilitation Camps Program, has tendered his resignation which will become effective September 17. Mr. Clausen has accepted a position on the faculty of the School of Social Work at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Mr. Vergil M. Pinckney, Superintendent of the Michigan Boys Training School, announced the appointment of Mr. Harold S. Gazan, of Grayling, as the new Director of the Camp Program. Mr. Gazan has been resident Camp Supervisor at Camp LaViolette near Grayling and will continue to reside in the Grayling area. Mr. Richard E. Manley, resident Camp Supervisor at Camp Nokomis, will continue to direct the operations of Camp Nokomis at Houghton Lake.

Mr. Clausen expressed his thanks to the many individuals and organizations in the community who have been most kind and cooperative toward the camps during his stay. "It is very difficult to leave such fine people and this wonderful area, but this is an opportunity I couldn't refuse. I leave knowing that the Camp Program is in very capable hands and that the community will continue to display its interest in what we have been trying to do."

Fisheries personnel in Region II indicated that the Big Manistee will be treated to remove all fish and lamprays from the stretch between M-72 down to M-66 for a distance of about 20 miles. If tests show it to be necessary, the river between M-72 and the 612 bridge, northwest of Grayling, will also be included in the operation.

"The upper Big Manistee is so devoid of trout and so loaded with suckers, minnows and burbot that a total kill will effect no real loss," said Dr. Wayne Tody, acting state fisheries chief.

Tody said the river has gone down to a "near-zero trout population" and surveys pin the blame on the native chestnut lamprae, which is a near-relative of the big sea lamprey of the Great Lakes. Both lamprays kill their prey by fastening to a fish with a suction-like mouth, then rasping a hole in the victim in order to suck its blood.

The newly-formed Upper Manistee River Association has been pushing for the rehabilitation program, according to Fred Bromwell of Camp Arrowhead, one of the group's most active members.

Following the total kill, a replanting program will be carried out to rebuild the trout population for which the Big Manistee has long been famous. The upstream treatment will not affect fishing this year below Hadenpyle dam, say fisheries men.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Robertson wore a pale blue bonded lace gown, while Mrs. Moreland chose pink silk. Both wore corsages of feathered carnations.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the 2:30 p. m. ceremony. The newlyweds are on a honeymoon trip through northern Michigan and the upper peninsula. For her going-away trip Mrs. Robertson chose a moss green silk set off by a white orchid corsage. The couple will leave Grayling September 7th for North Carolina.

Crime, A National Problem . . .

Climbing at a pace that is nearly six times the rate of population growth, crime in the United States is fast becoming the nation's number one problem. Law-enforcement officials are calling it a national crisis, as its erupt in city after city and crime rates soar. In the five years since 1960, crimes have increased 47 per cent, as reported by the FBI, and there is wide-spread fear among officials that the crime wave will get worse before it gets better.

U.S. News & World Report recently surveyed the scope of the crime problem in a long feature article, among the conclusions reached were these: more and more police officers are needed, the courts are too lenient with offenders and public attitude breeds disrespect for the law. One of the built-in difficulties of strengthening law enforcement is that many qualified men are not attracted to police work because of low pay and the lack of cooperation and respect by the community and the courts. The median pay last year ranged from $4,740 a year in some small cities to $5,515 in large cities. Likewise, the term "police brutality" has deterred good men from going into police work. The International Association of Chiefs of Police reports, "Many high-type men are reluctant to go into police work today because of the kicking around that police are getting."

U.S. News & World Report observes that court leniency is widely criticized, and "Many law-enforcement officials complain that the police are hampered by Supreme Court rulings designed to protect the rights of criminals, and that local courts too often release guilty defendants on technicalities or punish them too lightly."

The crime problem is further aggravated by public attitudes. "A spirit of lawlessness" and a "contempt for law" are said to be growing among the American People. A breakdown in family life is cited as a cause, and moral values are described as deteriorating. Civil-rights leaders are accused of contributing to contempt for law by telling Negroes they have a right to disobey laws they consider unjust.

A chief assistant prosecuting attorney in Michigan says, "We are seeing more and more crimes of a violent nature," and noted there is also a drop in the number of people willing to press charges of such offenses as rape and assault. "The victims tell us they are afraid the man will go free and come after them and retaliate. So they will not try to prosecute," he said.

Despite an array of new sophisticated weapons to fight crime, many officials insist that there is a little which can be done to curb the increase in crime until public attitudes change. But, David Lawrence, editor of U. S. News & World Report, raised several questions about the attitudes and inactions of public officials and declared, "Discontent is increasing largely because of a feeling that persons elected to public office have failed to take the steps necessary to maintain law and order. Congress seems hesitant to enact corrective laws for fear of offending Negro voters."

Debate and disagreement over the cause, as well as the cure, of rising crime and violence that plagues the United States will go on. Ultimately, there may be no clear-cut solution except as will come from widespread public concern. This is the force that will be reflected all the way from Congress to the local station house and neighborhood patrolman. Massive public disapproval of wrongdoing and disregard of the law and rights of others combined with greater certainty of punishment would seem to be the most effective forces to deter the potential criminal.

The upcoming political wars will focus public attention on the growing crime rate as a major national problem. This could be a significant factor in establishing the kind of concern on the part of the people that will bring reasonable, fair and workable solutions closer.

Now on furlough and to report to Fort Custer, Mich.

The once-in-a-lifetime sight of quadruplet fawns has been reported to conservation department officials here. Visitors and natives of the Grayling area relate that, every evening about sundown a doe and her four frisky fawns come down from the hills south of Deward and drink from the Manistee River. The four "babes in the woods" are still in spotted coat—testifying to the fact that they are all of this year's fawn crop.

Max Laage, superintendent of AuSable State forest, and other conservation officers are quite put out by actions of some of our young boys. Neither private nor public property seems safe from destruction by young vandals. Mr. Laage says that at the Big Creek Camp grounds northeast of Lovells on both sides of the West Branch of Big Creek vandals have done considerable destruction. On a recent maintenance inspection trip they found the register box broken, the guard rail of the stairway broken, two toilets tipped over, two tables thrown down an embankment into the river, and other destruction. Frequently they find pipes to camp stoves missing, making it very inconvenient for other parties to do their camp cooking.

They were accompanied on their return by their daughter, Mrs. Wesley Dunham and little daughter Sandra Claire of Ann Arbor, who will spend the week here visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Webb of Flint stopped in Frederic to see a number of old friends en route home from visiting the latter's brother, George Palmer of Alba. They were Frederic residents 40 years ago. Mrs. Webb was formerly Dollie Palmer.

Mrs. Leo Jorgenson enjoyed having a few friends drop in at her home Tuesday evening to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. She served coffee and was the recipient of many nice gifts.

Pvt. Kenneth Burkhardt, who is enjoying a furlough in Grayling and Frederic, spent Wednesday with Mrs. B. J. Callahan and son William. Mr. Burkhardt, who was a former Frederic resident, is with the Missouri Institute of Aeronautics at Sikeston, Mo.

We do the drying for less than 2 cents a load.
The ironing is free.

Gas dries a load of clothes for less than 2¢. In fact, you can dry 5 loads in the gas dryer for the cost of drying one in an electric dryer.

Gas dries the clothes faster. Lets you do more of your wash in less time. Saves up to 10 minutes or more on a load. And wait till you see how things come out, especially the new permanent press kind. The dryer does them for you. They look like they've just come from the cleaners. Neat. Ready to wear.

Maintenance cost? Forget it! An independent survey shows the average cost of maintaining a gas dryer is less than 20 cents a year.

Right now is a good time to buy a gas dryer. Many dealers have them at special savings. Free installation too. And you need no down payment. Easy terms are yours for the asking. Know why 7 out of 10 families owning dryers have gas dryers? It's because they're the very best. Let a gas dryer do your ironing.

BITS O' TALK

Both Hans Peterson of Grayling, who can tell a good story about it, and Mrs. George Lodge of Fred-erick, called the Avalanche to say that last week's Frederic photo was of the former Doc Layton drugstore and residence adjoining, located behind Lozon's store on the south side of County Road 612. We are indebted to them for their interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Johnson left Monday, August 22nd, for Norway in the U. P. where they visited his sister, Mrs. Walfrid Danielson and family. They were joined by two brothers, Victor of Duluth, Minn., and August of Appleton, Wisc. Many side trips of interest were taken. They visited the ski area at Iron Mountain and the iron mines there, then to Lake Carney which is uninhabited but a beautiful secluded spot. They climbed rocks on Pine Creek to see swift falls where long ago logs were floated. Friday they started for home detouring 90 miles out of their way to go to Chief Lake near Republic, where Mr. Johnson hunted 51 years ago. They visited the Adams brothers, one of whom was 5 years of age at that time and who was Mr. J's shadow. He is now manager and cook at the hunting camp. Much reminiscing was carried on. This visit was a new experience for Mrs. Johnson as they ate camp style. There was no mirror in the log cabin and on one wall were 17 nails substituting for a clothes closet. Light could be seen through the chimney opening. Running water was one temperature—cold. There was a bench to sit on to look at the beautiful lake which has several islands. The following day the Johnsons visited cousins at Marquette staying a night and then they took a three hour boat trip to see the beautiful Pictured Rocks. Lake Superior was very calm which made the trip relaxing. They returned home Monday, the 29th.

Motion by Billie Forbes, second by John Latuszek, that Bill Kraus be nominated as President of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. All Ayes.
Motion by Don Welsler, second by Jerry Burns, that the nominations be closed and a unanimous ballot be cast. All Ayes.
Motion by Billie Forbes, second by Bernard Fowler, that John Latuszek be nominated as Vice President of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. All Ayes.

Motion by Don Welsler, second by Ray Elsey, that the nominations be closed and a unanimous ballot be cast. All Ayes.

Motion by Bill Kraus, second by John Latuszek, that Billie Forbes be nominated as Treasurer of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. All Ayes.

Motion by Don Welsler, second by Jerry Burns, that the nominations be closed and a unanimous ballot be cast. All Ayes.
Motion by Don Welsler, second by Ray Elsey that Mrs. Roy Roper be retained as Secretary and Mr. Earl Longworth as Manager of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year. All Ayes.

The question was raised as to why only three persons are on the ballot for new members of the board of directors. Mr. Longworth explained the reasons for this procedure. This procedure was adopted three years ago. There is a need of individuals on the board to represent the cross section of the various segments of business and economy in Crawford County. By appointing a committee to ascertain what individuals will serve on the board, the element of not having a balanced board is made negligible. Also, there are individuals who are reluctant to run on a ballot and whose services are lost to the community for this reason. It was further brought out that the Chamber will welcome any individual to advise that they would enjoy serving on the board.
Manager Longworth read the names of three new businesses in Crawford County:
1. Northland Property Patrol, Bob Ruddy
2. Circle "D" Riding Stable, Otto and Duane Dillon
3. Water Wonderland Motel, Caroline and Hank Ryther
Motion by Bill Kraus, second by Ray Elsey, that these business be accepted into the membership of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce. All Ayes.

Mr. Longworth read a letter from the Department of Conservation in reply of his inquiry regarding the possibility of constructing a public beach on Lake Margrethe. Three reasons were offered why this would not be feasible. 1. A north-east pike spawning marsh is being constructed in this area. 2. It would cost a minimum of $300,000 to move the highway and make this piece of beach safe for swimming purposes. 3. The area which could be made available through purchase is limited. It was suggested that Manager Longworth again write to the Department of Conservation to see if it would be possible to improve the beach area at the Lake Margrethe campground.

Mr. Longworth reported that permission has been given the Chamber by the City Council to erect a sign in front of the City Hall designating Chamber of Commerce Information. Motion by Don Welsler, second by Bill Kraus, that Dick's Sign Service and Design Signs be given the opportunity to submit bids on this sign. All Ayes.
Manager Longworth reported that everything is set for the Annual Dinner Meeting. The speaker will be Gene Little from the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and his topic will be "General Chamber Activities and Northwest Blight".

Bill Tufts volunteered to introduce the "Guest of Honor." Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kraus and Mr. and Mrs. Chum Longworth agreed to be the committee in charge of program and decorations.
The Carnival of Color has been set for the weekend of October 7 and 8 and will be a combined Automobile Show and merchants promotion. Several organizations will have booths and will have an opportunity to make some profits... If your group has not been contacted and you wish to participate, please call the Chamber office. imum amount of work involved, a motion was made by Don Welsler, second by Billie Forbes that the Chamber again play host to the White Tail Roundup. All Ayes.

It was suggested that a "points of interest" sign be erected in the City Park. Manager Longworth agreed to take this matter up with the City Manager.

Mr. Longworth reported that the new county maps are at the printers and the proofs should be back next week and will be shown to the City, Road Commission and Board of Supervisors. The new combined City and County maps will be available before October 1. Chuck Kroll reported that the case for the grayling fish is being made by Harvey Hill.

Motion by Bernard Fowler, second by John Latuszek that this meeting be adjourned at 1:35 p.m.

Next meeting to be held September 8th, 1966.

Letters To The Editor

Editor's Note — The Grayling Area Chamber of Commerce recently wrote to the Department of Conservation. This to the response of a group of area motel owners, a letter was written to the Department of Conservation to ascertain if something could be done to enlarge the bathing beach at Lake Margrethe adjacent to M-72 west. The following letter was received. We have now written again asking if the beach facilities at the State Forest campground could be increased to take care of the primary vacation activity swimming.

August 15, 1966
Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce
Grayling, Michigan 49738
Attention: Mr. Earl H. Longworth, Manager
Gentlemen:

We have investigated the possibility of constructing a public beach on Lake Margrethe as suggested in your letter of July 15. We find several reasons why this is not desirable.

First, the State has purchased some of the lands lying to the north of Highway 72, and will be using these lands for the construction of a northern pike spawning marsh. This should lead to improved fishing in Lake Margrethe, and I am sure that you are interested in this program.

Second, in order to make this piece of beach safe and useable for swimming purposes, it would cost a minimum of $300,000 to move the highway, or to build a pedestrian overpass, the cost would be in the neighborhood of $25,000. This would still leave a very small and dangerous beach as far as traffic and use is concerned.

Third, the area which could be made available even through purchase is very limited and offers no possibility for expansion or development to meet future needs.

I am sure that you are aware that there is a State Forest campground on the northwest arm of the lake. This has a good beach and is open for public use. It is our suggestion that this be used to provide local swimming, at least for the present time.

I would hope that eventually some of the military lands could be returned for public use; however, at the present time, this seems to be quite remote.

Sincerely,
Glenn C. Gregg
Deputy Director
Recreation

Also feasted at this happy occasion was a spontaneous "farewell party" for Camp Superintendent and Mrs. Billy Kinkert as they announced plans for a month's vacation touring the western United States. Circuit Courts boards. About 4,400 were not successful in regaining the privilege to drive legally. But the boards restored the right to drive in 51.8% of the cases.

Some 71% of those who appealed to Circuit Judges last year were successful in regaining their licenses. (Records for 1966 are not yet available.)

This means that Circuit Judges have considered evidence against drivers who have been ticketed frequently and which has been reviewed by a body which specializes in such considerations. Then, in nearly three-fourths of the cases, the judges restored the driving privilege.

It also means that something is wrong either with the arresting and reviewing procedure or that Circuit Judges have been very lenient.

The public has an interest, and it isn't watching out very well for itself. Mr. Citizen should ask himself: How safe are our roads if more than half the drivers with records bad enough to warrant suspension or revocation can have the privilege of driving restored? Because auto insurance rates are concerned with the kind of drivers on the road, statistics cited here can be considered one of the several factors influencing higher rates.

But if the "average" man does not care about the quality of drivers enough to make a fuss about it, it is hard to see how the situation will be improved.

COMMON PROBLEM

Tight labor supply dictates changes to attract the help that is needed, the State Civil Service Commission has learned.

An increase in available jobs and a boost in personnel turnover have coupled with the generally good national economic situation to make placement difficult in many areas.

The problem continues to exist despite a generous pay boost averaging six per cent and a pay-for-over-time policy recently adopted for civil servants. These have helped relieve some of the personnel problems, however.

Facing the need to attract more people to state job vacancies, the Civil Service Department has taken several steps of a semi-temporary nature.

Direct recruiting in high schools and colleges has been sharply increased. Citizenship and other minimum requirements have been waived in some job classifications.

Another change has been the almost unheard-of hiring of people at above the minimum rate in certain job classes where severe shortages of personnel existed.

Still another effort aimed at getting more applicants for state jobs was the opening in Lansing of a recruiting office half-days on Saturday. By this change, the department hopes to reach people who would not be inclined to take time off from present jobs but might be seeking new employment on their off day.

It will be some time before the trial of Saturday hours shows results, if any.

Ultimate hope is that this and the other measures will enable the department to fill its critical vacancies areas, such as mat attendant nurses, institution workers, supervisors and housemothers at the boys' and girls' training schools, and correction officers at Jackson Prison.
